

The First Global Youth Festival for SDGS 2018

Manama – Kingdom of Bahrain
20th – 26th October

About the Festival

Under the patronage of His Majesty King Hamad bin Isa Al Khalifa, King of Bahrain. The Ministry of Youth and Sport Affairs is organizing the First International Global Youth festival for the sustainable development goal, during the 20th -26th October 2018.

The festival is the first of its kind in the world and aims to promote awareness among young people through a wide range of activities and events. To achieve these goals we must involve all segments of society, especially the youth. The creation of a better future is a responsibility of solidarity.

Objectives of the Festival

1. Clarify the sustainable development goals to the largest possible segment of young people and all segments of society.
2. Encourage the youth to work towards the SDGs.
3. To introduce young people from all over the world to the efforts and initiatives of the Kingdom of Bahrain in achieving the SDGs
4. Introducing workforces and contributors to these goals, and spreading their stories and experiences to be an incentive for young people.
5. Collaborate with young people to chart several initiatives and a plan that will help achieve the sustainable development goals.

Festival & SDGs

What are the Sustainable Development Goals?

There are 17 goals representing a global demand for action to eradicate poverty protect the planet and ensure that all people live in peace and prosperity. These goals are based on the successes achieved in attaining the Millennium Development Goals (MDGs) (2000-2015), as well as covering new areas such as climate change, economic inequality, promotion of innovation, sustainable consumption, peace and justice, among other priorities.

Why be part of the Sustainable Development Goals?

It is our responsibility to be a part of the change, so it is important to promote the sustainable development goals, in addition to working with various governmental and private agencies to implement these goals further. To achieve these goals, we must involve all segments of society, especially young people, for the abilities they have. The idea of this world festival is the first of its kind in the world, with the aim of spreading these goals, so that each of us would be responsible for it in this context. The production of a better future is a responsibility of solidarity that cannot be done by one entity alone.
